WITHOUT YOU, WE'RE NOTHING.
*Renew Today.

Dear Sun Reader,

Subscriptions are the blood in the vein, the meat on the bone, the smile on the face of a healthy magazine. This is especially true for us, because we don't carry any advertising. In The Sun, nobody will ever encourage you to buy a luxury car, or a $300 blouse, or, heaven forbid, tell you how to lose weight or gain muscle. Instead, we keep the focus on what counts: good, honest writing, and ideas that challenge the status quo.

Turning down advertising means abandoning a lucrative source of revenue upon which virtually all magazines depend. But we don't want advertising to compromise the radical intimacy we create in The Sun, an intimacy that reminds us of the beauty and sadness of being alive.

Please renew today by sending your instructions in the enclosed reply envelope. To avoid postal delays and save resources, you can also renew online at www.thesunmagazine.org.

Sincerely,
Krista Bremer
